

Boston and the Foundation of the USA

An Untold Story

From the Stump to the Statue

Boston Heritage Forum is staging a day event and book launch chaired by historian and TV presenter, Jonathan Foyle.

The day will feature two eminent American Speakers coming specially from the Partnership of the Historic Bostons in the USA, Barry Cotton and Eve LaPlante along with Lincolnshire historian Neil Wright.

They will be exploring the story of Lincolnshire men and women who helped to establish the USA we know today and how they influenced women's rights in the constitution.

The day will include the launch of the book 'Boston - The Small Town with a Big Story' featuring about 50 subjects from Boston's heritage

The history of the Borough of Boston is rich and diverse but not well known. The Boston Heritage Forum wishes to change that, by using our history to promote Boston as a good place to live, work and visit.
